This MLA packet will help students organize the Works Cited page, format parenthetical references, and apply the basic structure of an MLA paper.

These handouts conform to the MLA Handbook 7th edition standards. However, a professor may change the requirements for individual papers. Please consult the professor for any special requirements.
Sample First Page
(Pg. 117 MLA Handbook, 7th edition)

Heading begins 1” from the top of the page.

0.5”

According to the 7th ed. of the MLA handbook, the last name and page # go on every page. (See pg. 117) For details, see “Page Headers” on pg.3.

MLA Basics

Title page (Pg. 116)
MLA does not require a separate title page; MLA papers have a four-line heading and a title directly before the first paragraph (see p. 2 of packet). If the professor requires a title page, follow his/her instructions or follow the guidelines for the Generic Title Page (flyer available on Writing Center website or outside the Writing Center).

Margins (Pg. 116)
Margins should be one inch on all sides of the page. The heading should be set to one inch. In Microsoft Word, select “Page Layout” and then find the “Margins” drop-down and select “Normal.”

Text Formatting (Pg. 116)
Many students want to justify the lines of the text at the right margin; however, this is not necessary in MLA format. Instead, choose “Align left,” which is usually the default. Double-space everything! This includes the title, text, block quotes (quotes longer than four lines), and the Works Cited page. Because double-spacing produces a blank line after paragraphs, headings, and titles, there is no need to press “Enter” for another blank line after them. In Microsoft Word, go to the “Home” menu, then to the “Paragraph” section, click the small arrow in the bottom right corner, find the “Line spacing” section, and choose “double.” Check the “Don’t add space between paragraphs of the same style” box. For more help, see the video on our YouTube channel: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=H5bU1VCIltY

MLA calls for both a header and a heading. A header is located half an inch from the top of the page and will include the student’s last name and the page number. This information will appear on every page of the paper. To create the header, double click at the top of the page. Go to the “Page Number” drop down menu, select “Top of Page,” and choose “Plain Number 3.” Then click the left arrow key once so that the cursor is on the left side of the number. Type last name. Make sure to leave one space between the name and the page number, and change the font of both to Times New Roman 12 point.

The heading will appear on the first page only and include the student’s full name, professor, class designation, and date. This header is double-spaced like the rest of the paper and is placed one inch from the top of the page. If the margins are already set correctly, this will be the first line that the computer will allow typing outside of the page’s header box (see p. 2 of packet).

Writing the Paper & Citing the Sources

Indents (Pg. 94, 116-117)
Tab once before all paragraphs (half an inch) and tab twice for block quotes (those longer than 4 lines).

Names and Titles (Pg. 79-80, 86-92)
Within the text of the paper, the first time a source is used, give both the first and last name of the author exactly as they appear in the source. After that, only mention the last name. Italicize the titles of complete works (books, anthologies, newspapers, paintings) and quote unit titles (chapters, articles, essays in a collection, songs).

Using Numbers (Pg. 81-85)
For a subject such as literature that does not regularly use numbers, spell numbers out if they translate into one or two words and use Arabic numerals with proper comma usage for longer numbers (Ex: 1,576.). If a paper frequently uses numbers for mathematics, economics, etc., use the Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3, etc.). If the numbers are not part of the statistic, spell them out (Ex: For fifteen years, Smith has conducted this research.).
Citing Sources in Your Paper (Pg. 214-215)
In parentheses after the quote or paraphrase, type the author’s last name and the page number without a comma between them (see “Differences in Quoting, Paraphrasing, and Summarizing” flyer.)

Works Cited Page (Pg. 129-131)
If sources have been cited in the paper, then there will be a Works Cited page at the end. Double-space everything. The first line of each reference is aligned left and each following line is indented once. This is called a hanging indent (see p. 5 of packet for instructions on creating one).

With non-blocked quotes (those of 4 lines or less), the period goes after the end parenthesis. With block quotes, type a space after the ending punctuation mark of the quotation and then type the parenthetical reference. Do not use quotation marks.
Printed Sources in the Works Cited (Pgs. 131-181)

- Double-space the lines of the Works Cited page.
- Include available author, title, and publishing information in each entry.
- Arrange entries in alphabetical order by author’s last name. Use the first author if a work has several. If there is no author named, alphabetize the entry by the first significant word of the title (i.e. The Season of Surgery before Summertime Love).
- Align entries to the left and indent subsequent lines one tab. To automatically create a hanging indent, highlight the Works Cited list, click the small arrow button in the bottom right of the “Paragraph” section of the “Home” tab, find the “Special” section under “Indention,” choose and choose “Hanging.” For more help, see the video on our YouTube channel: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=S2fg4JFHnkJ
- Remember to use one space after a comma or period, and finish each entry with a period.
- At the end of the citation, printed sources have the word “Print.”
- If there are volume or issue numbers, include them after the title of the publication in the format volume number, period, no space, issue number (See scholarly journal section for example).

Book with One Author (Pg. 148-149)

Book with Two Authors (Pg. 154)

Book with Three Authors (Pg. 154)

Book with More than Three Authors (Pg. 155)

Two or More Books by the Same Author (Pg. 133)
*Cite the first normally. Use three hyphens and a period for every subsequent entry. They should be together in the Works Cited.
An Edition other than the First (Pg. 167)

Book with an Editor as Author (Pg. 153)

Book with an Author and Editor (Pgs. 162-163)

A Work in an Anthology (with an author) (Pgs. 157-160)

Include the page numbers of the entire work, not just the portion quoted.

A Work in an Anthology (with no author) (Pg. 158)

A Multivolume Work (Pg. 168)

There is no need to cite the total number of volumes if only citing one volume. However, specific references to volume number and page numbers must be included in the parenthetical reference.

Newspaper Article (Pgs. 141-142)

There is no period between the newspaper title and the date. If edition (late ed., etc.) is needed, it goes after the date, separated by a comma, before the colon.

Scholarly Journal (Pg. 137)

19.2 represents volume number 19 and issue number 2.
Electronic Sources in the Works Cited

For the most part, the same important information for a printed source must be reported for electronically accessed sources. However, there are a few extra items that are very important to include. Because the Internet is constantly changing, it is essential to record the information’s access date.

World Wide Web (Pgs. 181-192)
When citing an item from the World Wide Web, include as much of the following information as the item provides. For example, if the material being cited does not have an author’s name, the name can be left out in the Works Cited, and the student can move on to the next step.

- Name of author, compiler, director, editor, narrator, performer, or translator of the work
- Title of document, in quotation marks
- Title of complete work (or site name), italicized
- Date of publication or last revision; if nothing is available, use n.d. (no date).
- Medium of publication (Web)
- Date of access (day, month, and year)
- MLA does not require URL address except if other information is lacking, but the professor has the right to require it.

General Website Entry

Printed Book Accessed Through the Internet (Pg. 187/ 5.6.2 c.)

Printed Newspaper Article Accessed Through the Internet (Pg. 222)

Electronic Journal or Magazine Article (Pg. 190)

Professional Site (Pgs. 184-187 / 5.6.2)
Poems and Short Stories (in an online anthology) (Pgs. 157-160 / 5.5.6)

Scholarly Project (Pgs. 184-187 / 5.6.2)

Online Database Accessed from the DBU Library (Pgs. 192-193)

*If there is no volume or issue number, put the date with no parenthesis after the title: 5 Sept. 1999
*If there are no page numbers, use “n. pag.” Instead: (1999): n. pag.
*Academic OneFile is one of the DBU databases.

Twitter (http://www.mla.org/style/handbook_faq/cite_a_tweet)
Last name, First name (User Name). “Tweet or status in its entirety.” Day Month Year, time. Tweet.

Jones, Johnny (ILoveWriting). “I just ate dinner, and it was delicious.” 4 Mar. 2013, 9:32 p.m. Tweet.

YouTube (Begin on pg. 184 / 5.6.2)

*When using YouTube, determine whether or not it is original material first. In other words, is it available from another more reliable source?
*Cite everything possible about the material, including author, username, title, and publication data.

Miscellaneous Communication

Published/Broadcast Interview (Pg. 201)
Baggins, Frodo. Interview by George Stephanopoulos. “My Life as a Hobbit.” Good Morning America. ABC.

Electronic Communications (Pgs. 204-205).
When citing electronic communications, the method will be somewhat different. Please notice the list below for items to include when citing an e-mail message.

- Author’s name
- Subject line from posting (in quotation marks)
- Type of communication & recipient (Message to _____. Distribution list, Office Comm., etc.)
- Date of communication
- Medium of delivery

Personal Interview (Pg. 202)

Using the Bible as a Source (91, 164, 226-228, 250-253)

Things to Remember
- The first time a particular version is cited, include the version, followed by a comma. The version does not have to be stated in subsequent references unless a different version is used.
- The book of the Bible cited should be abbreviated.
- When citing chapter and verse, it is appropriate to separate them by either a colon or a period. Always be consistent.

Ex: Before God created light, “darkness was over the surface of the deep” (New International Version, Gen. 1.2). After God separated the light from the darkness, “the darkness he called ‘night’ ” (Gen. 1.5).

Parenthetical References (Pg. 253-5)
When citing a particular passage, use the following order:
(version of Bible used [in first citation only], book of Bible [abbreviated] chapter. verse).

Ex: (New International Version, Gen. 1.1).

In Your Text
Books and versions of the Bible are not underlined, italicized, or put in quotation marks. The only exception is when an individually published edition is being used.

Ex: Bible Exodus New Testament King James Version The Zondervan Study Bible

Ex: The NIV Serendipity Bible provides questions to assist small group Bible study leaders.

Works Cited (Pg. 164, 228)
Include title of Bible, version, and publication information in the Works Cited.
